IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF ALASKA

AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION,

Plaintiff,

vs.

SUK CHANG LEE (d/b/a AAA AUTO BODY & MECHANICAL),

Defendant.

Case No. A05-059 CI [JWS]

NOTICE TO COURT OF DEFENDANT'S
LACK OF COMPLIANCE

Plaintiff American Automobile Association ("AAA") hereby advises the court that no report or other communication has been received from the defendant, including no opposition to the pending motion for attorney's fees.

Moreover, visual inspections of the outside of defendant's business on January 25 and February 6, 2006, revealed that defendant has not complied in a satisfactory manner with the court's order to mask his AAA signage. The accompanying color photos (Exhibits 1-5) taken on January 25, 2006, show that the right-hand "A" has been somewhat darkened on the two signs on the outside wall of the building, but is still visible. The other two "A's" remain unchanged. On the free standing lighted sign the middle "A" has been colored yellow. The two outside "A's" on that sign are red. The combined effect still shows three A's. A visual inspection of the signage this afternoon, February 6, confirmed no change since January 25. These results do not comply with the court's oral directions in open court or with the court's written orders.

Defendant should be held in contempt of court, ordered to completely remove or cover each of the "A's" in the three signs advertising his business within 3 business days, and ordered again not to utilize any "A's" in any further advertising whatsoever.

A reasonable award of attorney's fee based on the pending unopposed motion is appropriate to get defendant's attention.

Respectfully submitted,

February 7, 2006.
